POWER SOURCES

Using Nickel-metal-hydride batteries:

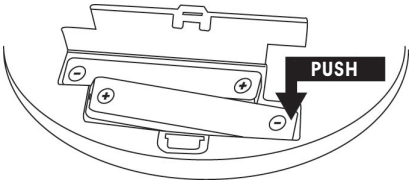
1. Open the lid of the player and open the battery compartment door. Insert two pieces of the Nickel-metal-hydride battery following the polarity as indicated on the unit, and close the battery compartment door.

2. Do not mix using new battery with old battery.

3. Batteries should be recharged or replaced when the battery level indicator on the LCD display shows empty continuously.

4. When the batteries are fully discharged, the battery level indicator will blink for about 5 seconds and the unit will be shut off automatically.

Remark: To remove the Nickel-metal-hydride batteries from the battery compartment, press the negative pole of the battery downward. The positive pole of the battery will be tilted up and the battery can be taken out easily.



Using AC/DC adaptor

Use only DC output between 4.5V and 6.0V with positive pole to the center pin, and make sure that the AC input voltage of the adaptor matches with the domestic supply. Any other adaptor may cause damage to the unit.

Remark:
Stop the player before connect (or disconnect) the adaptor DC jack to the player.

Using external battery case (supply for some models only)

Insert two pcs of AA (UM-3/R06) size battery into the battery case (optional accessory) following the polarity as indicated. Then close the battery case. Plug the jack of the battery case to the external battery connection socket of the player.

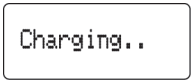
To recharge the Nickel-metal-hydride rechargeable batteries

Switch off the player with the Stop button and connect the AC/DC adaptor to the player. The rechargeable batteries inside the battery compartment will be recharged automatically.

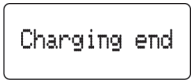
If the player is operating by the power source of AC/DC adaptor, while the rechargeable batteries are kept inside the battery compartment, switch off the player by pressing the Stop button. Leave the player idle for about 60 sec., the batteries will be recharged automatically.

The recharging will be cut off automatically when the batteries are fully recharged. The LCD shows the recharging status or the cut off status.

Recharging status



Recharging cut off status



Remarks:
The batteries will be recharged only when the player is at the off (idle) status. If the Play/Pause button is pressed during recharging, the player will perform playback function and the recharging will be interrupted.

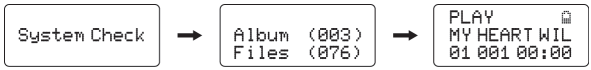
GENERAL OPERATIONS

1. Insert the disc into the player and close the lid securely.

2. Connect the LCD line remote control unit to the player, and the earphone to the LCD line remote control unit.

3. Press and hold the Play/Pause button for one second, the player scans the disc and then starts playing.

Remark:
The title of song, artist's name, and album's name can be displayed if the MP3 disc is with the ID3 versions V1, V1.1, V2 2.0, or V2 3.0 information.



4. Adjust the volume to the desire level by pressing the "VOL -" or "VOL +" button.
